General Comment

When is our government going to learn it only screws stuff up and makes it worse for every day folks? This country is becoming a laughingstock, both from outside and within. Get out of our way and toss out these ridiculous notions.

I've started using options to help fund my retirement through an IRA account and guess what? It's been working and I'm a novice investor in relation to using options. Selling covered calls and naked puts is all I do and will ever do in my account. I use the resources my brokerage provides as well as getting independent investment advice. My success rate with is far better than anything I've done with stocks or mutual funds. FAR BETTER! Don't take that away.
